Played Out.

That "played out"—"done up" feeling makes life miserable for every sufferer from Kidney ills, backaches, headaches and urinary troubles, painful and annoying.

Doan's Kidney Pills

bring new life and activity, remove the pain and cure the cause, from common backache to dangerous diabetes.

Mr. L. T. Wilson, sailmaker on Market street, Portsmouth, N. H., says: "I contracted a very bad cold which affected me in the loins and in the upper part of the chest, causing distressing lameness, some urinary difficulty and I was quite exhausted. As I had read considerable about Doan's Kidney Pills I went to Philbrick's pharmacy and got a box. They went to the spot at once, and I did not use but part of the box before I was quite over my trouble. I gave the balance of my box to a friend, and there was plenty to cure him, although neither of us are very lightweights. I am prepared from my personal experience and from their effects on others to highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. You can refer to me."

PICTORIAL PUZZLE.

WHAT UNION GENERAL IS REPRESENTED?

HOW HE WAS SNARED

[Original.]

My definition of a genius is one who does things the wrong way with the right results.

The Marroquils lived in a flat on the seventh story of a building facing the park. On the third floor lived the Tuckers. In the Marroquil family, which was large one, was the oldest daughter, Jeannette, only eighteen years old, but with a remarkable head on her shoulders. Jeannette knew perfectly well that she must be provided for, or, rather, that she must provide for herself by securing a husband. The Tucker family was small, there being but one child, Adolph Tucker, twenty-one years old, and just come into an estate from his grandmother of $200,000. The Marroquils did not know the Tuckers, nor the Tuckers the Marroquils, but the wife of the janitor had told Jeannette all about the Tuckers and the fortune. Besides, Jeannette had gone up in the elevator with Adolph Tucker and considered him "perfectly lovely."

Jeannette was determined to make Adolph Tucker's acquaintance. But how? There are many sets in large cities, and the two families belonged to different sets. Jeannette never found one of her friends who happened to know the Tuckers. Nevertheless she felt no doubt whatever that she would make young Tucker's acquaintance.

She was leaning out of her window one summer morning looking across the street below into the park. Hearing the patter of footsteps on the sidewalk, she looked down and saw the object of her wishes, who had just come out from the house, standing on the sidewalk in immaculate costume.

Miss Marroquil was not only a girl of resources, but her conceptions came to her like lightning and were executed nearly as rapidly. Rushing to a stand, she filled a pitcher, returned to the window and poured the contents of the top of his silk hat. Waiting only till she had seen a splash like a radiating fountain, she set down the pitcher and, seizing a newspaper, fixed her eyes intently upon it.

Mr. Tucker, who was a very young man, first shook himself like a dog which has just emerged from a swim, then, going across the street muttering maledictions, stood on the opposite sidewalk and looked up to discover whence had come his unwelcome bath. A number of windows in the flats above were open, but only one window was occupied, and there sat Miss Marroquil. Mr. Tucker was sure that she was the aggressor.

Mr. Tucker went to his room and again made himself immaculate. Half an hour later he emerged from the building covered by a silk umbrella with a silver mounted handle. When he returned he had made up his mind for the most bitter revenge man can take on woman. He had resolved to make the acquaintance of the girl who had so wounded his dignity, win her heart and throw it to the winds.

Just why Mrs. Tucker took it into her head to call upon Mrs. Marroquil never was satisfactorily explained. The call was returned and was followed by another from Mrs. Tucker, with a request to be permitted to bring her son. Miss Marroquil, armed with her daintiest costume, met Mr. Tucker ready for a fight to the finish. She did not know his intentions, but believed they were venal. Mr. Tucker said nothing about his ducking, but made himself as fascinating as possible. Miss Marroquil accepted his attentions and made it as pleasant as possible for Mr. Tucker. Indeed it was apparent to him that he was working well till one morning, when emerging from the building, he received a second cold water bath. This time, though he looked up with surprising quickness, he saw no one at the Marroquils' window.

Mr. Tucker was surprised. He could understand the girl's freak that had led Miss Marroquil to give him his first ducking, but had supposed he had made an impression and would be at least treated with proper consideration. He began to feel that he was not after all an object of the slightest reverence to Miss Marroquil, for he did not doubt that she was this second time the aggressor. His future action was not clear to him, but upon consideration he finally resolved to cut Miss Marroquil the next time he should meet her. A few days later when he passed her coming out of the door of the apartment house he turned his head.

Miss Marroquil had now done everything she could to entangle Mr. Tucker. If he was caught he would soon show it; if not, there was nothing more to be done.

The two did not see each other again till one day they met in the elevator. Mr. Tucker turned red, then white. Miss Marroquil chatted glibly with a friend, apparently forgetful of her former acquaintance with Mr. Tucker. Then her cousin, Tom Martin, came and passed a week with them, and Mr. Tucker saw her going out with him for walks in the park.

This was the last round. One day Miss Marroquil received a note from Mr. Tucker saying that he would like to be permitted to call that evening and make an explanation. He received no reply. Three days after Mr. Tucker saw his enemy go into the park alone for a walk. He followed and joined her. The result of the meeting was a humble apology from Mr. Tucker for cutting her. As to an apology from her for ducking him, it was forgotten.

He declared that away from or at enmity with her he would go mad. Since their marriage Mr. Tucker has made many apologies, Mrs. Tucker never one.

F. A. MITCHELL.

His Report.

City Editor (to reporter)—Did you see those sleeping cars that were reported on fire?

Reporter—No, sir. When I got there they were all smoking cars.—Judge.

Written for the Advertiser.

Thoughts as They Occur.

Blow, blow, thou winter wind,
Thou art not so unkind,
As base ingratitude,
Although thou art not seen,
Thy tooth is not so keen,
Thou touchest not so rude.

We have had a good deal of experience with winter wind, ever since last fall, and no let-up as yet except for a few hours at a time. I have been exposed to it a good deal and still live. I have also been exposed to "ingratitude." If I do good deeds for people and they reward me with meanness, I do the next ones for others and let them R. I. P., which being interpreted means, Rest in Peace.

I know people who might have happy homes with cheerful, contented occupants if it was not for their ungrateful, diabolical dispositions. They make some mischief by fault-finding, scolding, keeping up a continual "clack" about the cold, the dirt, the water and everything else that don't just suit their ideas of living.

I admire a woman who can bear grief and hold her nose, and a man also as to that matter. I have seen these of both sexes that could and I have seen those who were just like little children in regard to bearing trouble—weak and foolish children at that.

I often wish such ones might have some real trouble like other folks and see if they would not learn to get little vexations with more fortitude. Till Hymen brought the love delighted hour, there was no "fuss" in Eden's rosy bowers. But since that day—O, please excuse my rhyme, some "rosy bowers" are at it all the time.

Well, I can hold up my left hand and swear that there never was a fuss nor a quarrel in my house. (My right hand has got a awful great "scratch" on it. I got twining about a tree in the woods.)

I have had women come to me with tears in their eyes and lamentable stories on their tongues about their husbands abusing them. If I do or say anything to make things more pleasant, sometimes, in some cases, they will "make up" and then lay the whole cause of their trouble onto me. Such is the wickedness and frailty of depraved humanity.

In other cases, where the parties are more sensible and reasonable and either separate or try to live a little good for the sake of family relations, after I have helped to calm the troubled waters, some kind neighbor will circulate the story that the last child they had belongs to me, notwithstanding the lantern jaws and long slim legs of the "young one."

This is an age of fraud and deception but truth exists just the same whether people regard it or not. A neighbor came in yesterday and said he looked in the Almanac and that stated that it was going to be warmer today, and here it is the coldest and windiest day we have had for weeks, roads all blocked up and no mail, the R. F. D. shut out and the snow still drifting.

The inference is that one might as well consult the dictionary as to consult the Almanac to find out what the weather is going to be to-morrow or next week. It will probably be warmer before the first of May. It might be warmer before this gets into print.

Proverbs

"When the butter won't come put a penny in the churn," is an old time dairy proverb. It often seems to work though no one has ever told why.

When mothers are worried because the children do not gain strength and flesh we say give them Scott's Emulsion.

It is like the penny in the milk because it works and because there is something astonishing about it.

Scott's Emulsion is simply a milk of pure cod liver oil with some hypophosphites especially prepared for delicate stomachs.

Children take to it naturally because they like the taste and the remedy takes just as naturally to the children because it is so perfectly adapted to their wants.

For all weak and pale and thin children Scott's Emulsion is the most satisfactory treatment.

We will send you the penny, i. e., a sample free.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

WHAT'S GOING ON.

Frank Kimball, the popular druggist, is thinking of putting a penny-in-the-slot weighing machine in his store, so that those who use his store, should know how much they gain in weight every week.

There is talk of forming a "Get Fat Society" in Norway. It will be a jolly crowd, as fat people are always happy. This will undoubtedly increase the sale of M-O-n-a, the flesh forming food, for which Noyes Drug Store is the local agent.

It is rather unusual for a physician to treat his patients on the no cure, no pay plan. However, this is the way Dr. Frank Kimball is selling M-O-n-a, as he agrees to refund the price of 50c a box if it does not cure all stomach troubles and increase weight.

The ADVERTISER is going to publish experiences of those who have used M-O-n-a, the remarkable flesh forming food. Send in your letters and tell what this preparation has done for you.

The remarkable results from the use of our advertising columns has never been better shown than in The Noyes Drug Store's large sale of M-O-n-a. This preparation has not been advertised for very many months, but it already is the best selling article in The Noyes Drug Store.

Particulars of the Fire.

The people of the village were surprised and startled at an early hour on Wednesday morning, Feb. 19, to learn that the cottage of Mr. W. Pond was destroyed by fire. The particulars are as follows:

Mrs. Pond being absent from home on a visit to her relatives, Mr. Pond was alone and soundly sleeping in one of the chambers. He was awakened by his dog about 11:30 at night to find the lower story on fire and no way to escape except to jump out of the chamber window.

He had no chance to save anything except a few articles in the room with him in reach which he threw out before he leaped from the window. He succeeded in saving his horse and dog and waded through the snow to Alonzo Barrows'. The wind was blowing a gale and on their return there was no chance to save anything.

The cottage was nicely furnished and though Mr. Pond had some insurance on buildings it did not cover his loss in keeping his horse and dog and waded through the snow to Alonzo Barrows'. The wind was blowing a gale and on their return there was no chance to save anything.

Dr. Jefferson Cushing Gallison.

At his home in Franklin Mass., just after the clock had tolled the hour of one, Monday morning, Feb. 22, there passed from our sight Dr. Jefferson Cushing Gallison. As a boy he lived with his parents at North Woodstock, and was well known in Oxford county.

Jefferson Cushing Gallison, M. D., of Franklin was a native of Maine, born in Sebaste, August 8, 1841, son of John Murray and Sarah Ann (French) Gallison. His paternal grandfather was born in the old Winslow house still standing in Marshfield and was the eldest son of John Gallison of Marblehead, who married Abigail Winslow, daughter of Kenneth Winslow, a direct descendant of the Winslows of the Mayflower.

The Gallisons came early to Marblehead from the island of Guernsey, and are of French descent. His maternal ancestors were of the Scotch-Irish immigrants who were the early settlers of parts of New Hampshire. His maternal grandfather was a veteran of the war of 1812.

He attended the public schools in Woodstock, the Oxford Normal Institute at South Paris and the Norway Liberal Institute, was for three years private pupil of H. B. Kimball, and was one of the Thirty-first and Thirty-second Maine Volunteers; and was graduated from the Boston University, in 1875, Tufts College 1894, and the Harvard Medical School 1896. He has for several years been a post-graduate student at Harvard. In 1893 he entered the regular course in an under-graduate and was graduated a member of the class of 1895.

He was for three years in practice in Medway, nearly one year in Brookline, and has for 25 years been in Franklin. During this time he was in Europe several months and served as interne in the hospital Beaujon, Paris. Later he was an instructor in surgery in the Boston University Medical school for three years and lecturer on surgical pathology at Tufts College.

In 1890 he was appointed medical examiner for Norfolk county which office he still holds. Dr. Gallison was also concerned in banking, being a director of the Franklin National bank, the Benjamin Franklin Co-operative bank. He was a director of the Milford, Franklin & Providence Railroad. He has served his town as a member of the Franklin School Board for three years and was for several years member of the local Board of Health.

He was a member of the Massachusetts Medical society, of the Massachusetts Medical-Legal society, of the Thruway Medical society (founded in 1894) of the Alumni association of Boston University (founded in 1875) and of the Alumni association of Tufts College. He was a Knight Templar and a thirty-second degree Mason, member of Aleppo Temple, Order of the Mystic Shrine, an Odd Fellow, member of lodge and general other secret societies.

Dr. Gallison was married Jan. 2, 1864, in Portland, Me., to Miss Ellen S. Burnell, daughter of Isaiah M. and Abigail S. (Willard) Burnell. They had one child, daughter, Annie Louise Gallison, born Oct. 28, 1871. She was married to Walter A. Hawkins in October, 1891, one son being born to them, Burnelle G. Hawkins, all of whom are living. A widow also survives him.

Owing to study and overwork Dr. Gallison was seriously ill in 1895, requiring nearly a year for recuperation and complete recovery, and in 1896 he went to Europe to visit his daughter, Mrs. Walter A. Hawkins who with her husband was living in Bohemia, Austria, where he was the representative of a large American importing house. He had mastered the German language previously, adding materially to the pleasure of his trip. On his return he resumed his profession and was called to his attack of heart trouble which culminated fatally.

Ever since his terrible stroke of heart trouble in June, '90, which struck him down in his doorway, he has been wrestling with the fate which his medical knowledge taught him all too surely was impending.

He has been able, however, to attend to his practice with comparative comfort until last November, when its really serious nature began to assert itself, since when he has been confined to the house, and most of the time to his bed, having all the care that specialists, the constant care of his brother, Dr. J. I. Gallison, a trained nurse and a devoted wife and daughter could give him.

He was a consistent member of the Congregational church in this place and of the society of the same denomination. His legislative experience in '96 and '97 was one of the most delightful periods of his life and his frequent reference to it showed how largely it had entered into his life. Instead of being a mere episode it was one of the events of a busy and interesting career.

As a physician he attained high eminence in his profession, being called in consultation frequently.

The funeral was held from the Congregationalist church Thursday at 2.30 p. m., the following pastors officiating: Rev. Webster Goodrich, Rev. I. H. Sneath and Rev. D. M. Hodge. The Masonic fraternity attended in a body, and took part in the service. The Weber Quartet of Boston furnished musical selections. The remains were taken to Bridgton for interment.

There is a best time for doing everything—that is, a time when a thing can be done to the best advantage, most easily and most effectively. Now is the best time for purifying your blood. Why? Because your system is now trying to purify it—you know this by the pimples and other eruptions that have come on your face and body.

CHANGE of LIFE

Owing to modern methods of living, not one woman in a thousand approaches this perfectly natural change without experiencing a train of very annoying and sometimes painful symptoms. Those dreadful hot flashes, sending the blood surging to the heart until it seems ready to burst, and the faint feeling that follows, sometimes with chills, as if the heart were going to stop forever, are only a few of the symptoms of dangerous nervous trouble. The nerves are crying out for assistance. The cry should be heeded in time.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

was prepared to meet the needs of woman's system at this trying period of her life, and all women who use it pass through this trying period with comfort and safety.

READ THESE CONVINCING LETTERS:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it my duty to write you about the wonderful cure your medicine has brought about.

"I suffered for years with change of life. I would have fainting spells, either before or after my monthly periods. They would come on me suddenly. Sometimes I would be on the street.

"I had pains all over me. My head ached all the time, could take no walks or go up stairs without becoming completely exhausted. I suffered untold misery. I tried doctor's medicines for a long time, but derived no benefit.

"I cannot say too much in praise of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and would advise all sufferers of female trouble to use it, for it will certainly cure them."—MRS. LIZZIE C. REYNOLDS, Buchanan, Va.

When one stops to think about the good these women derived from this great medicine, it seems almost beyond belief; yet it is all true as stated in their letters published above at their own request.

For these ills no other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. Refuse all substitutes.

As a positive fact the private files at Lydia E. Pinkham's laboratory contain thousands of letters from women who have been safely carried through that danger period "Change of Life." The cures of Mrs. Reynolds and Mrs. Blake are not unusual ones for this medicine to accomplish.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—My trouble was change of life and cramping. No human tongue can describe what I suffered with the cramp. I dreaded from one time to another so much that I almost wanted to die.

"Our family physician did everything he could for me, but I got no relief. He said I lived to get through with the other trouble, it would wear away after a time, but I had it six years and could not walk or exercise in any way without bringing on an attack of the cramp, and I would suffer untold misery until I would be perfectly exhausted and helpless.

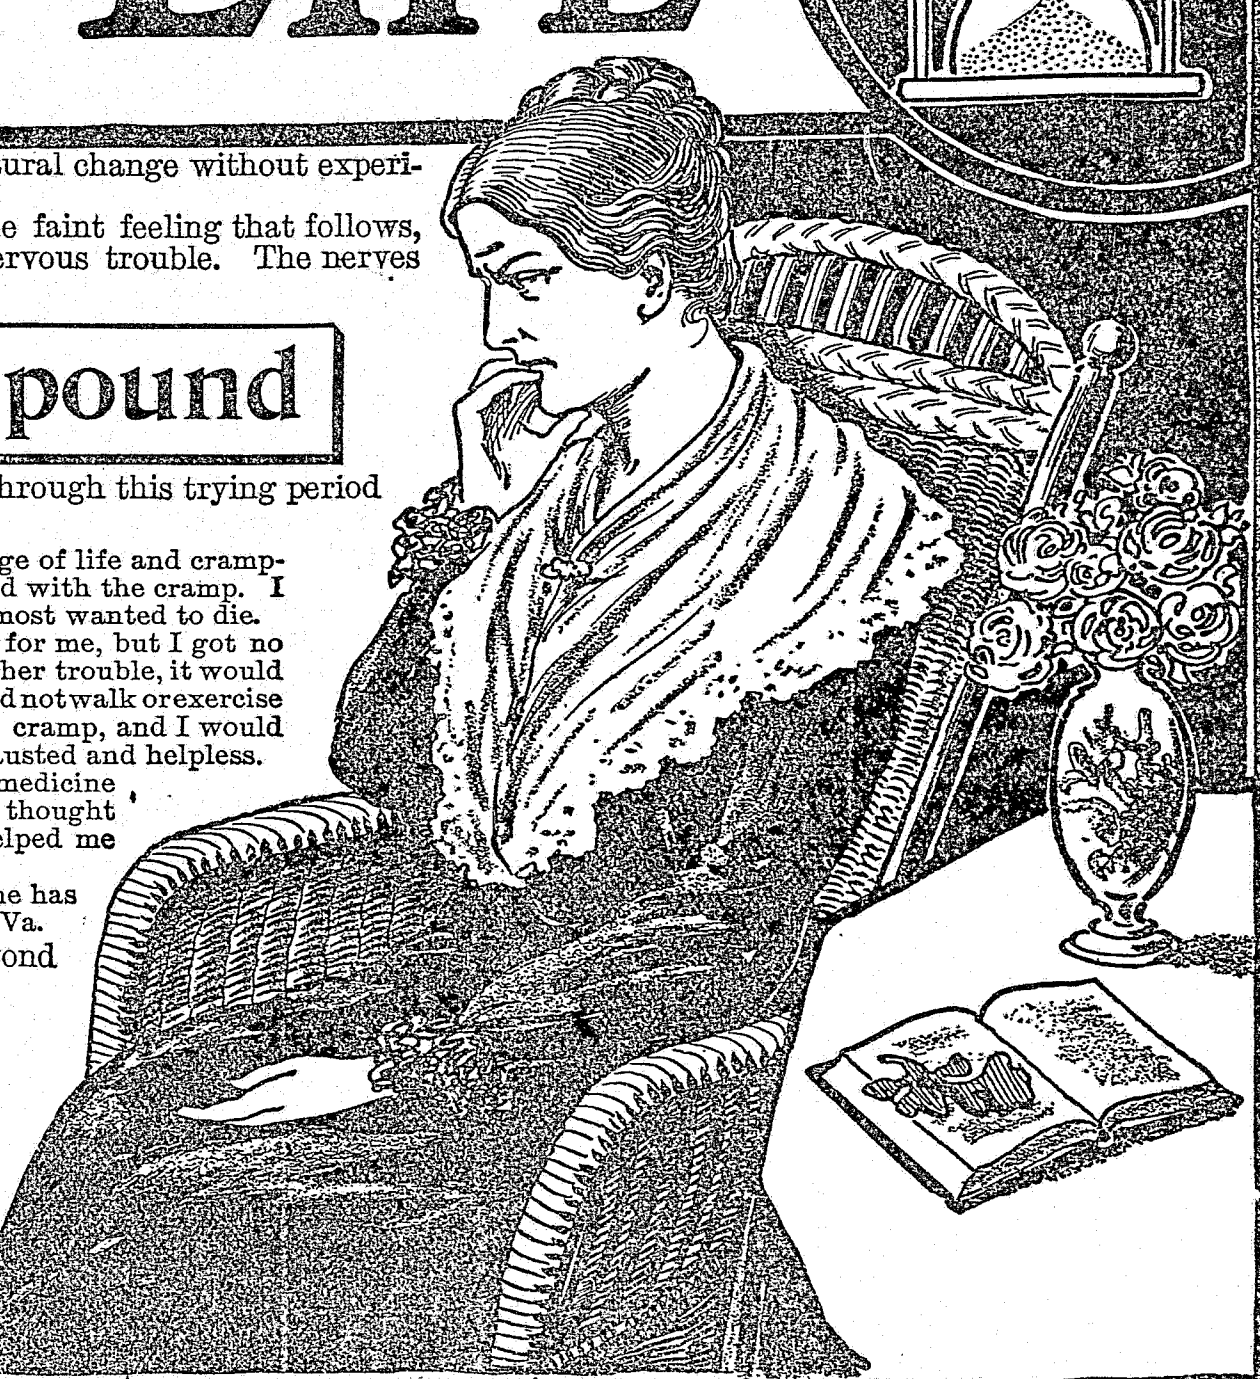

"I read in one of your little books about your medicine being good for female trouble and change of life, and thought there was no harm in trying it, so I did, and it helped me and I was able to take walks and work some.

"I am very thankful for the relief your medicine has been to me."—MRS. V. M. BLAKE, Deep Water, W. Va.

No such helpful advice to women who are sick can be had elsewhere as will be received free by addressing Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass.—if you are sick write her—you are foolish if you don't.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness.

Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Frank Kimball Relies Upon Hyomei

Cures Colds, Coughs, Catarrh and Grip. Just Breathing It.

Hyomei is nature's own method for curing catarrh, colds, coughs, and diseases of the respiratory organs. It is the only natural treatment for the cure of these troubles.

Breathed through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, the air that passes into the throat and lungs is identical with that on the mountains, where it is laden with healing and health-giving balsams. It searches out and kills disease germs in the most remote and minute air cells of the heart, throat and lungs. It soothes and heals all irritation of the mucous membrane.

Hyomei is prescribed by physicians generally. Many of them use it themselves to break up a cold and prevent pneumonia.

The complete Hyomei outfit consists of a neat inhaler, that is so small and convenient that it can be carried in the pocket or purse, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei. This costs but $1, and it will cure any ordinary case of catarrh. In chronic and deep seated conditions, however, use is necessary and extra bottles of Hyomei can be obtained for 50c, making it a most economical treatment for this disease.

The Noyes Drug Store has so much confidence in the power of Hyomei to cure catarrh and other diseases of the throat and lungs that they sell it under their personal guarantee to refund the money to any purchaser in case it fails to give satisfaction. They take all the risk themselves, and Hyomei costs you absolutely nothing unless it does you good.

CURES RHEUMATISM

Wonderful Discovery by a Famous Doctor Scientist That Quickly Cures Rheumatism.

Relieves Pain, Eliminates the Uric Acid and Completely Removes Every Trace of this Terrible Affliction.

THE REMEDY IS FREE TO ALL.

Sufferers from Rheumatism will be glad to know that at last a remedy has been discovered which will positively cure this disease. No matter how long you have had it, you can now be cured sound and well. The reports that come from users of this new cure seem almost incredible but they are true nevertheless. One man had Rheumatism for twenty years and this remedy cured him in two weeks. Another was in such pain he could hardly sleep nights. The first dose relieved his pain and a few days further treatment completely restored him to health.

A woman who had suffered long from this most tedious of all diseases was induced by a friend to try this wonderful remedy. She, too, got well and never tired of telling her neighbors of her great good fortune in finding a permanent relief from what was proving the very bane of her existence.

As this discovery was only made a short time ago the remedy is entirely new and acts on a different principle from anything you may have previously taken. Write Doctor J. A. Lomas, Dept. 1089, South Bend, Ind., and describe your case. State if you have any other disease besides Rheumatism and the doctor will prepare what you need and send it to you by return mail free. The doctor insists upon knowing something of your general condition so he can cure your other afflictions, if you have any, while he is curing your Rheumatism.
